Specifically, data are presented on the following: (1) comparison of FY 1996 net instructional unit cost (NIUC) with previous years; (2) comparison of FY 1996 NIUC, full instructional unit cost, and total institutional unit costs; (3) summary of FY 1996 NIUC by cost categories; (4) FY 1996 indirect instructional support unit cost; (5) FY 1996 NIUC by seven instructional categories; (6) FY 1996 expenditures by function, cost category, and instructional support areas; and (7) NIUC by credit hour. The report indicates that the FY 1996 state average NIUC was $158.92, representing an increase of $11.24 (7.6%) from FY 1995. The full instructional unit cost was $166.70, while the total instructional unit cost was $180.91. For cost categories comprising instruction, the average unit cost for direct salaries was $59.19, compared to $11.21 for direct department costs, $2.29 for direct equipment costs, $65.79 allocated indirect costs, $19.85 for operation and maintenance costs, and $.58 for building rental costs. For support services, the average academic administration and planning cost was $11.04, compared to $8.60 for learning resources, $14.62 for student services, $5.08 for administrative data processing, $14.05 for general administration, $.52 for auxiliary services, and $11.89 for general institutional costs. ## INTRODUCTION

The Unit Cost Study is an annual project involving the direct participation of all public community colleges in Illinois. Each college submits basic data on course offerings, enrollments, and costs to the Illinois Community College Board staff, who in turn check the data for consistency with credit hour claims and financial reports and then compile the various reports of the Unit Cost Study. The Unit Cost Study also provides the basic cost information for determining the credit hour grant rates that are the basis for state financial support to public community colleges.

The ICCB has developed a Unit Cost Study Manual which provides detailed procedures for conducting the Unit Cost Study. Specific descriptions and definitions of the basic functions and cost centers also are contained in this manual. Nevertheless, caution must be exercised in making direct comparisons among colleges. Environmental characteristics and historical trends vary among public community colleges and must be taken into consideration when comparing unit costs. Several factors which may contribute to high unit costs are high faculty salaries, a high proportion of occupational curricula, and low enrollments. On the other hand, high enrollments and a large proportion of low-cost curricula are among factors which contribute to low unit costs.

The Unit Cost Study consists of basic enrollment and cost data. Direct instructional cost data are supplied by each college for each instructional area offered. These data include midterm enrollments in student semester credit hours; costs for direct instructional salaries; direct departmental costs, such as contractual services, supplies, travel, and equipment; and direct instructional equipment costs. Indirect costs also are reported by each college in total dollar amounts. The Unit Cost Study computer programs allocate these indirect costs to each function (instruction, organized research, public service) and then to each instructional area on the basis of the proportion of student semester credit hours generated in a given instructional area.

The unit costs in this report are shown for a student semester credit hour. The unit "student semester credit hour" is an output measure of instruction, defined as one student taking one semester credit of course work. (Any college on the quarter system converts quarter hours to semester hours.) One full-time equivalent (FTE) student is defined as 30 student semester credit hours.

The Unit Cost Study includes all expenses from both general operating and restricted purposes funds of the community colleges that are expended for instruction, organized research, and public service. It includes expenditures from local taxes, student tuition and fees, other local sources, state grants, and federal grants. Also included are expenses for equipment and building repairs, renovations, and remodeling that are locally funded and are not reimbursed by the state.

Not included are the full costs for the construction of new facilities, site purchase, site improvement, or interest and principal on any bonded indebtedness. Building depreciation costs are included in the Full Instructional Unit Cost.

Finally, a report is included in Appendix B which lists the fiscal year 1996 statewide average net instructional unit cost by instructional subject area designated by the program classification system (PCS) codes and six-digit Classification of Instructional Program (CIP) codes for all public community colleges in Illinois. This report details the cost per student semester credit hour by each cost category for each instructional subject area and is similar to detailed reports showing the unit cost and total cost by instructional subject area previously produced for each community college. The same report also is available upon request by peer groups identified below.

COMPARISON OF FISCAL YEAR 1996 NET INSTRUCTIONAL UNIT COST WITH PREVIOUS YEARS

The results of the Fiscal Year 1996 Unit Cost Study show that the state average net instructional unit cost in the public community colleges of Illinois has increased from $147.68 in fiscal year 1995 to $158.92 in fiscal year 1996, an increase of $11.24 (7.6 percent). Table 1 shows the state average net instructional unit cost and the annual percent change since fiscal year 1991.

Table 2 shows the net instructional unit costs for each of the public community colleges in Illinois since fiscal year 1991. Fiscal year 1991 was the final year Black Hawk College-East Campus functioned as a separate college. Although modifications have been made to the unit cost study, the comparability of instructional costs from year to year has been preserved.

FISCAL YEAR 1996 NET INSTRUCTIONAL UNIT COST,
FULL INSTRUCTIONAL UNIT COST, AND TOTAL INSTITUTIONAL UNIT COST

Three distinct summary unit costs are calculated in the ICCB Unit Cost Study: net instructional unit cost, full instructional unit cost, and total institutional unit cost. The unit cost most often used is net instructional unit cost. This is the unit cost used in the state funding plan, as well as in most comparative analyses. Table 3 shows the state average unit cost and cost per full-time equivalent (FTE) student for each of these three unit cost types.

Table 4 lists the three types of unit cost for each community college district. The first unit cost shown is the net instructional unit cost. This unit cost includes the direct and indirect costs for instruction. The second is the full instructional unit cost, which comprises net instructional costs, other costs (the chargeback costs of sending students to other community colleges and the 80 percent federal share of college work-study students), building remodeling and renovation costs, and building depreciation costs. Full instructional unit cost represents the total cost of the instruction function within each college.

In addition to instruction, colleges have two other functions: public service and organized research. The unit costs of these functions also are shown in Table 4. Organized research is generally a minor function in the community colleges; however, public service is typically a major function. The total institutional unit cost in the last column represents the sum of the full instructional unit cost, organized research unit cost, and the public service unit cost.

Total dollar costs for each of these categories are shown in Table A-1 of Appendix A.

Public service costs, which represent the cost of noncredit community education and community service activities provided by the colleges to governmental agencies, business and industry, and the community itself, rose to $85,931,790. This is an increase of 2.0 percent from fiscal year 1995.

Section III

FISCAL YEAR 1996 NET INSTRUCTIONAL UNIT COST

Net instructional unit cost includes direct instructional salary costs, direct departmental costs, direct instructional equipment costs, allocated costs, operation and maintenance costs, and building rental costs. Allocated costs consist of various indirect costs (allocated by ICCB computer programs), including cost of learning resources, student services, data processing, general administration, general institutional services, and academic administration and planning. Table 5 shows a state summary of the fiscal year 1996 average unit costs and cost per full-time equivalent student included in net instructional cost. Table 6 presents these unit costs for each district. Total dollar expenditures by district for the net instructional cost classifications are shown in Table A-2 of Appendix A.

Costs for the instruction function include expenditures for all of the cost classifications in all of the instructional categories from baccalaureate/general education through general studies. In comparing the unit cost of an individual community college, one must keep in mind that some types of programs generally cost more than others; therefore, a college with more expensive programs would be expected to have a higher overall unit cost. Additionally, smaller colleges would be expected to have higher unit costs than larger districts due partly to economies of scale and the need for a minimum level of personnel, physical plant, equipment, and library holdings necessary to maintain comprehensive programs.

Section IV

FISCAL YEAR 1996 INDIRECT INSTRUCTIONAL SUPPORT UNIT COST

Table 7 summarizes the fiscal year 1996 statewide average unit cost and average cost per full-time equivalent student for each of the educational support areas. Table 8 shows the indirect unit cost for each community college district. Indirect costs include the cost of learning resources, student services, administrative data processing, general administration, general institutional services, academic administration and planning, and subsidy for auxiliary services. The costs of learning resources, student services, administrative data processing, general administration, and general institutional services are first allocated to the three functions (instruction, organized research, and public service) based on the proportion of professional full-time equivalent staff in each function. These costs then are allocated to each instructional area (i.e., PCS-CIP) by the proportion of semester credit hours in each area.

Academic administration and planning costs are costs above the departmental level that can be applied directly to the instructional function, but not to an individual department, and are, therefore, allocated only among the instructional areas. The salary for the Dean of Transfer Education, for example, is included here.

The cost for auxiliary services (e.g., bookstores and food services) in this study represents only the subsidy that a college provides to these services. If these services are self-supporting or profitable, costs for them are not included.

Total expenditures for each of the indirect instructional support categories are shown for each community college district in Table A-3 of Appendix A.

Section V

FISCAL YEAR 1996 NET INSTRUCTIONAL UNIT COST BY FUNDABLE INSTRUCTIONAL CATEGORIES

Table 9 lists the statewide average net instructional unit cost and the average cost per full-time equivalent student in each instructional category. This cost information is the basis for determining the state credit hour grant rate in each of these instructional categories*. Table 10 displays the unit cost in each of the instructional categories for each community college district in Illinois.

Multicampus district unit costs for each instructional category are calculated in the same way that unit costs for single campus districts are calculated. This calculation treats multicampus districts as single-campus districts since the allocation of all indirect costs to instructional categories is made on the basis of total credit hours in each category. Thus, consistency in comparisons among district unit costs is maintained.
